

American Council for Construction Education Programs

ACCREDITED

There are seventy-three Baccalaureate degree programs, five masters degree programs, and fourteen associate degree programs that are ACCE accredited in accordance with the standards and procedures. Shown are the parent institution, the program accredited, and the responsible faculty member as prepared by the programs. Standards and procedures by which these programs are evaluated for accreditation are found on the ACCE web site at www.acce-hq.org

ACCREDITATION CANDIDATES

There are nine baccalaureate degree and two associate degree candidate programs. The institutions where these programs are offered have all indicated their desire to work toward ACCE accreditation. However, these programs, although in various stages of the accreditation process, have not yet been evaluated for compliance with ACCE's standards and criteria. Shown are the parent institution, the construction program, and the responsible faculty member.

Non Degree Recognition

In response to the concept of quality education in construction, ACCE has created a recognition program For non degree, career related education programs from providers and programs. This effort to recognize the providers and programs which have a quality process and content is aimed at providing education other than skills training. Standards and procedures by which these providers and programs are evaluated for recognition are found on the ACCE web site at www.acce-hq.org under "About ACCE."
